

Recommended “Mastery” and/or “Practice” activities

Note: The “Mastery” or “Practice” activities are good practice at any time but having the time to do so can be a problem. The recommended activities list below is a shorter list that works in conjunction particularly well with the BLOCK Skills. We recommend working these activities with your child daily, or at least every other day, for a week or so as your child’s needs dictate as acquiring the BLOCK Skills. The BLOCK & Mastery lessons need to be practiced until the lesson is thoroughly learned, normally when a child can successfully complete the lesson over several days & the learning can be applied.

“Mastery” and “Practice” activities are included in the BOX.COM account in separate folders. Many of the activities hands-on printable activities that are best kept in a baggy to practice again & again. These skills take much repetition to learn thoroughly.
